Spent the weekend on the Rho Creek Trail. Glorious! Get out there before the snow comes.

The lower section is in very good condition and quite easy to follow. Thanks to hard work by volunteers, there are only 2 down trees.

The clearcut section and just above need some work though. The route is easy to follow but watch yer step. Hope to get up there next spring and build decent tread thru there. It also gets pretty brushy up there. Still, it's easy to follow and very beautiful. Lots of deer, bear prints, cougar poop, old growth forest. Wild country.

No snow last weekend. It's been a really warm autumn in the mountains. Another warm front coming thru! Crazy, supposed to be a warm sunny weekend. Get out if you can.
